PRIVACY AND COOKIE POLICY

INFORMATION WE COLLECT

South Carolina Christian Foundation (SCCF) collects information when you register on our website, subscribe to a newsletter, respond to a survey, fill out a form, make a contribution, recommend a donation, or any other similar activity.

HOW WE USE YOUR INFORMATION

The information we collect from you may be used in (but not limited to) the following ways:

- to personalize your experience
- to process transactions
- to send periodic emails
- to improve client service
- to improve our website

The email address you provide may be used to send information and updates from South Carolina Christian Foundation. If at any time you would like to unsubscribe from receiving future emails, a link is provided at the bottom of each email to update your email preferences.

HOW WE PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

SCCF implements a variety of security measures to maintain the safety of your personal information. Our client data can only be accessed by those authorized with special access rights. Those authorized are required to keep the information confidential.

DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO OUTSIDE PARTIES

Your privacy is important to us. We do not sell, trade, or otherwise transfer to outside parties your personally identifiable information. This does not include trusted third parties who assist us in operating our website and databases, conducting our business, or servicing you, so long as those parties agree to keep this information confidential. We may also release your information when we believe release is appropriate to comply with the law, enforce our site policies, or protect ours or others' rights, property, or safety.

COOKIE POLICY

SCCF may store information about you using cookies. Cookies are small data files that are stored on your computer's (or other device's) hard drive each time you visit a website. Cookies, including the cookies used on our website, allow us to recognize your computer and improve your experience by making your interaction with the website quicker, easier, and more efficient. Cookies do not contain any personal or private information. Our website may use the following types of cookies: (a) functionality cookies enable the "Share" feature on our website where users may send information to other websites such as Facebook, and also may enable the use of user "favorites"; (b) analytics cookies are used to measure and analyze how users are using our website; (c) marketing cookies help identify how users are reaching our website, which helps us determine the effectiveness of our communications; (d) customer preference cookies enable our website to remember user preferences such as your username, location, and language to help save you time by avoiding repetitive entry of information.

We also use Google Analytics which utilizes Google advertising cookies and identifiers to analyze the demographics and interests of users.

If you want to delete any cookies that are already on your computer, please refer to the instructions for your file management software or browser software to locate the file or directory that stores cookies. We are not responsible for the content of any third-party website. Please note that by deleting our cookies or disabling future cookies, you may not be able to access certain areas or features of our site. Our website does not recognize "Do Not Track" requests that may be automatically transmitted by your web browser.

YOUR CONSENT

By using our site, you consent to our privacy and cookie policy.

CHANGES TO OUR PRIVACY AND COOKIE POLICY

If this privacy and cookie policy is changed, we will post those changes on this page. This policy was last modified on April 25, 2023.
